

The tickets for the Military Odyssey are now for sale online, together with the camping for the four nights. To ensure you get a pitch you need to buy it now and you need to open an account with them. Go onto their website and go onto 'public camping'. Then select and pay for your tickets. It then asks you what size pitch you want (and the smallest is 5m square at £50 for the whole period) You then pay for your pitch separately.

This seems a crazy system but if you know of friends going you can buy all the tickets together and all the pitches at the same time.

Please put SLC after your name and let Val Mitchell have your order number with your names and number of vans you've booked so we can get sited together. (fingers crossed)

Many thanks,
